CCPN Marks Strong First Year

From Allen Dobson, MD, Chairman

Just one year ago, Community Care Physician Network launched with the goal of building a critical mass of practices and medical providers that makes shared services more affordable, that creates a platform for efficient compliance and that ultimately means our members are able to provide higher quality care to their patients more profitably. I am pleased to report that all of that important work is under way. In the first 12 months of operations since we began recruiting in March 2016, CCPN membership has grown to approximately 1,500 individual healthcare providers serving patients in more than 400 practices across the state. With two just-signed agreements, we effectively have 2,000 clinicians in our network today.

The CCPN Board of Managers is made up of physicians representing regions and communities across our state and were nominated by participating physicians and networks. So, when we say we are provider-led and patient-focused, that's exactly what we mean.

Our reach continues to expand. In addition to adult and pediatric primary care practices, CCPN today is actively recruiting behavioral health and ob/gyn specialists. Since recruitment of the ob/gyns and behavioral health providers has just begun, their fee waiver extends through June 30, 2017. If you know of practices, particularly in these specialty areas that we should reach out to, please contact Shelley Keir at skeir@n3cn.org.

The CCPN Board of Managers also voted in February to extend the enrollment fee waiver for primary care providers through April 30, 2017. When the waivers expire, one-time fees will be $75 per clinician ($50 per clinician for groups of 15 or more) with a maximum fee per practice of $2,500.

Our first year has been a building year. We have focused on recruitment, gathered data, presented trainings, established committees and started building the business plans to deliver the services that our members tell us they want and need most. I'm pleased with where we are, and I look forward to starting our second year in a very healthy position with our focus on delivering value to all our participating clinicians.

Ted Nifong, M.D.,
Winston-Salem, NC

The CCPN Board of Managers held its first face-to-face meeting in Greensboro in February. Dr. Allen Dobson gave the Board an overview of CCPN activities since the last meeting, and Denise Levis Hewson reported that CCPN is very close to meeting its goal of 2,000 providers. Doctors Terry

Daniel and Steve Wegner gave updates from the Quality Improvement Committee, including plans for identifying and reporting performance metrics and gathering quality data from practices. The group also discussed what CCPN can do to best position itself as an entity that can be accountable for quality improvement goals in the new health care environment. Several board members expressed that the extended face-to-face February meeting allowed many items to be more thoroughly discussed so additional face-to-face board meetings will be scheduled. The next Board of Managers' meeting is set for March 30 in Greensboro.

Feb. 15 Greenville Meet & Greet Includes MACRA Training

Quality Committee Adds Anna Boone & Robert Eick, MD

CCPN welcomes Anna Boone, RN, BSN, MSPH and Robert Eick, MD, MPH to the Quality Assurance and Improvement Committee. Anna Boone will support CCPN by managing the quality plan and overseeing the quality measurement set. Dr. Eick's focus is on implementing quality programs that support the CCPN medical home network and the evaluation of initiatives that drive quality in the network. These two team members already are assisting the Quality Assurance and Improvement Committee in developing proposed quality metrics that CCPN will measure and report to payers for the pediatric and adult populations. Dr. Eick is also working directly with the Practice Transformation Network as the physician champion, assisting in recruitment and training of practice coaches. Additional updates on the work of the Quality Assurance and Improvement Committee will appear in future newsletters.
